Thanks Lisa. Glad to hear they made good progress on the liner.

See you in the morning.

Hi Brook -

Thank you for the introduction to Vic. I didn't give you much time to review the TLSA this week, but it will be good for you to meet the team while you are here and we can talk about high-level items in the TLSA at the least.

I was at Windsong Ranch lagoon today and since we have had a dry week so far, they have actually been able to lay down about 20% of the liner. So your team will get to see that progress while they are here.

See you in the morning at 10am. You have my mobile if you need to reach me.

Good morning Vic,

Please allow me to introduce you to the Crystal Lagoon Team. Lisa Moore, the Regional Director for Crystal Lagoons, has been our main point of contact up to this point. Lisa and the rest of their team will be working with us to complete a Technology Licensing and Support Agreement ("TLSA") for the Crystal Lagoon Desert Color desires to build. An initial draft of the TLSA is attached for your review.

Lisa, Vic Taylor is our counsel for Desert Color. He works with Durham Jones and Pinegar. Please forward his contact information onto the appropriate folks within your organization. I will print off the TLSA and review it on the flight down tonight. However, I will not have had a chance to review fully the TLSA with the partners nor had a chance to confer with Vic. But the process is getting started. Thank you for sending it over.

Thank you,

Brook Cole

Hi Brook -

Attached is the first draft of our TLSA - Technology Licensing and Support Agreement. This draft is in Microsoft word so you can make your comments and red line when you send back to us for review.

Hopefully you will have some time to review this before you fly to Dallas this week so we can help answer any first questions you have while our attorney is in town on Friday.

Please let us know the name of your attorney that you will be using, or make an introduction via email when appropriate.

See you Friday!
